

A BIG DIME'S WORTH

The November Designer is more than usual an interesting magazine. The girl who wants to make her own way in the world may find helpful suggestions in the valuable paper, "Training for Self-Support," in this number.

Nut Parties, the fad of the day for full and full rules for the various games given in detail.

The Old Woman Who Lived in a Shoe, a play and drill for wee folk, is also given in this number, with illustrations by Mabel Humphreys.

Christmas Gifts and how to make them—baskets, bags, cushions and some useful articles for men—occupy four pages; full directions for making and pictures showing how they look.

Two pages are devoted to the fashionable Lace Collar, pictures and descriptions of what may be bought or made, some pretty patterns for girls' collars. And much else of seasonal interest—all for a dime. A year's subscription, etc., at the pattern counter.

COLORADO COAL MINERS.

They Report that They Are Being Mistreated by the Authorities.

The situation among the miners in Colorado, where the executive board of the United Mine Workers has authorized a strike, is said to be critical. According to reports from the miners in the Cripple Creek district of the State, conditions there within the past few weeks have become almost outrageous. Never in the history of America, the miners say, have the rights of citizens been so ruthlessly trampled under foot as in the Cripple Creek region during this month. The outrages, run the reports, are but chapters in a conspiracy to defeat the will of the people of the State, where a majority has declared for an eight-hour law for persons employed in mines, mills, smelters, reduction works and blast furnaces.

At present in the district there is a bad strike of the Western Federation of Miners, and 1,500 armed men have been sent to the support of the operators. Frank Woods, manager of the Gold Coin mine, told his employees that they would have to sever their connection with the Western Federation of Miners or be discharged, whereupon the men left the mine. All the other plants where men of the Western Federation were employed are idle, the strikers standing firm for the eight-hour day. The attitude of the Governor of the State is said to be one of sympathy with the operators. When presented with a petition signed by 3,000 citizens asking that the troops be recalled, Governor Peabody replied: "The soldiers will stay in Cripple Creek until the strike is broken." The other officials of the State have assumed a similar attitude.

It is said that innocent men are arrested by the troops without warrant, held without charge, and confined for days in bull pens. The miners charge that the militia is rented to the mine operators to carry out their orders. The strike which is authorized by the United Mine Workers will no doubt complicate the situation. Their demand is practically the same as the miners of the Western Federation. They ask for the eight-hour day, higher wages and better ventilation in the mines. Great secrecy is maintained at the headquarters of the United Mine Workers in this city as to the strike. President Strickland says he cannot say when the strike will be called, although it remains for the executive board to give the order. All the members of the organization will strike, and great efforts will be made to win the fight.

SYNOD ELECTS HUGHES

RICHMOND DIVINE SUCCEEDS HENRY L. NAVE AS MODERATOR.

Robert A. Brown Discusses the Importance of Home and Foreign Mission Questions.

PROGRAMME FOR THE SESSIONS

REPORTS ON ALL DEPARTMENTS OF WORK WILL BE RECEIVED.

Presbyterian Ministers Will Visit Site of National Technical Institute This Afternoon.

The Rev. I. M. Hughes, of Richmond, is the new moderator of the Synod of Indiana, of the Presbyterian Church. He was elected last night at the first session of the synod at the First Presbyterian Church, Delaware and Sixteenth streets. The Rev. Henry L. Nave, of Crawfordsville, is the retiring moderator. He presided over the synod last night until the new moderator was elected.

There were just two candidates for the moderatorship—the Rev. Hughes and the Rev. Freely Rohrer, of Marion, chairman of the Board of Home Missions. Mr. Hughes, received fifty-one votes and Mr. Rohrer forty-two. Mr. Hughes is one of the older preachers in the synod and he received almost the entire support of this contingent of the organization.

In seconding the nomination of Mr. Rohrer, Robert A. Brown, one of the lay members of the synod, spoke of the change that has been going on in the church in the way of minister and congregation getting more and more closely together. The most important thing before the synod was the changes in the last thirteen years. Mr. Brown thought, is the consideration of the questions incident to home and foreign missions.

LARGE ATTENDANCE.
About 100 members responded to roll call last night. It is said the attendance will be increased materially to-day. The synod will continue in session until Thursday morning, the final adjournment coming Wednesday night, with an address upon home mission work by John Willis Baer, assistant secretary of the Board of Home Missions.

The Rev. M. L. Raines, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, in announcing the programme, called attention to the fact that the Synod of Indiana, of the Presbyterian Church, has been held in Indianapolis since 1890. He said that the most rapid growth of Indianapolis has been in the past thirteen years. And he also said the importance and the work of the synod have taken long strides since 1890.

The single matter of most interest to be considered by the synod at this session will be the report of Chairman Rohrer, of the Board of Home Missions. Two hours will be devoted to business during the session this morning and two business sessions are on to-morrow's programme. It is not known whether Mr. Rohrer's report will be made to-day or to-morrow. The report is not quite completed. Mr. Rohrer said last night, and he was unable to give out any of the changes in this department of the synod's work since last year. Besides this report the synod will hear reports from twenty-six other committees. The work of the synod is largely of a routine nature.

SERMON BY DR. NAVE.
As retiring moderator the Rev. Nave last night preached a sermon before the synod. His text was taken from John 1, 14, "We beheld His glory." "The Infinite God has come close to finite man is the burden of John's story," said Mr. Nave. "John finds in the glorious person of Jesus the real basis of faith."

The programme for this morning's session includes an address by the Rev. John Fox, of Brooklyn, who is representing the American Bible Society at the synod. The Rev. W. H. Weaver, of Baltimore, will also deliver an address this morning. The last thing on the programme for this afternoon is a visit to the grounds and buildings of the National Technical Institute. At some time to-day the synod will hold a memorial service in honor of the late Simon Yandes. The addresses on this afternoon's programme will be by the Rev. E. D. Worrell, of Butler, Pa., and the Rev. J. R. Collier, of Cincinnati. The programme for the session to-night is an address by the Rev. Arthur J. Brown, of New York, secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions, on "Impressions of a Journey Round the World." To-night's session is termed a "popular business" session. The programme announced last night by Dr. Haines. The programme for to-morrow contains several addresses and two business sessions.

JUDGE ANDERSON'S ORDER.

Affairs of Columbia City Heel Company in Hands of Receiver.

Judge Anderson, of the Federal Court, has granted the petition of the creditors of the Columbia City Heel Manufacturing Company of Fort Wayne asking for a restraining order and the appointment of a receiver for that company.

In a suit brought by the First National Bank of Allegheny, Pa., recently against the company in the Whitley Circuit Court judgment was rendered against the company and its property was ordered sold to satisfy the judgment, and a writ of execution was issued to the sheriff, Edward A. Gallagher.

The creditors filed a petition for adjudication of bankruptcy against the company in the Federal Court and asked that the sheriff be restrained from executing the writ issued by the Whitley Circuit Court and also that a receiver be appointed to take charge of the manufacturing plant. Judge Anderson issued the restraining order and appointed Henry D. McCallister receiver of the property and assets of the company, to manage the same until a trustee shall be appointed or until the further order of the court. He further ordered the sheriff to turn over to the receiver all the property and assets of the company in his hands. The United States marshal was directed to serve the order on the sheriff.

CARPENTERS' BOARD.

Executive Officers Will Be in Session for Two Weeks.

The executive board of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners began its quarterly session yesterday at the headquarters of the organization in the Stevenson building, with all members present. The board will meet for two weeks, providing the business is cleared away in that time. This week will be devoted to routine business, such as settling differences and grievances of the different local unions and handling matters pertaining to the general organization. Next week the financial report will be taken up and verified. Nothing of importance is expected to come before the board at this meeting, other than a general discussion of the relations of the carpenters between whom there is at present a controversy over jurisdiction. The question will be fought out on the floor of the Boston convention of the American Federation of Labor next month.

Ministers Elect Officers.

At a meeting of the Christian Ministers' Association of Marion County yesterday morning officers were elected for the ensuing year, and a general programme for work during the next twelve months was prepared. The Rev. Austin Hunter was elected president, the Rev. H. L. Herod secretary and the Rev. H. L. Herod secretary. The Monday morning meeting of the association will probably hereafter be held in the Denison House. At the meeting yesterday the Rev. H. L. Herod read a paper on "Some Reasons for the Success of Early Christianity and their Present Bearing."

LOOKING FOR J. T. SPRINKLE.

He Evolved a Scheme, It Is Said, to Defraud the Government.

J. T. Sprinkle, formerly of this city, is being actively sought by the government authorities for a violation of the revenue laws. He has been establishing places throughout this State and Kentucky to carry out his scheme and while in this city he operated under the name of the Merchants' Distilling Company.

His method of procedure in this city was to notify the revenue officers that he was a rectifier and when gaugers came to his place and inspected the liquor they placed the rectifier's stamp upon each of the kegs, showing the number of gallons of liquor contained. By a rule in the revenue service the rectifier may bring these stamps to the office and have them exchanged for "wholesaler's" stamps, which he is expected to place upon the kegs from which the rectifier's stamps have been removed. Sprinkle took these stamps, however, and sent them to his father in North Carolina, who used them on moonshine whisky kegs and shipped his illicit whisky without being detected as a moonshiner. As the whisky kegs in this city did not bear the wholesaler's stamps it could not be sold, and it is supposed that the whisky was used over and over for the purpose of obtaining the stamps to send to Sprinkle's father in North Carolina.

DELEGATES GOT EXCITED

MEETING OF CENTRAL LABOR UNION WAS A WARM AFFAIR.

Motion to Indorse Gompers First Laid on the Table, Then Carried—Other C. L. U. Business.

At the meeting of Central Labor Union last night Thaddeus S. Gurley, of the Carpenters' Union, was elected delegate of the organization to the Boston convention of the American Federation of Labor. There were three candidates besides Mr. Gurley for the position, and two ballots were necessary for a choice. There had been considerable electioneering during the week and the hall was packed in anticipation of the event. On the first ballot John Feltman, of the cigar makers, and Thaddeus Gurley received the highest number of votes. Harry Simons, of the local union of the Painters, Decorators and Paper Hangers, and John Koch, of the Brewery workers, were the other candidates. Mr. Gurley received one vote short of the majority, which is required for election. On the second ballot Mr. Koch withdrew and Mr. Gurley received a majority of the votes. The result of the ballot was: Gurley, 51; Feltman, 34; and Simons, 15.

Before nominations for candidates were called a motion was made that the Central Labor Union stand in solidarity with the American Federation of Labor, and instruct their delegate to vote for his re-election. The motion was carried and before a discussion of it could be entered into another motion was made to adjourn. The motion was carried, which was carried by a vote of 50 to 17.

CAUSED CONSTERNATION.
The action of the body caused no little consternation among the rank and file of the body, as the failure to indorse Mr. Gompers at this time, which is a critical one, would, it was felt, be an unwise move. At the close of the election the matter was again brought up and discussed at length. The general opinion was that an injustice had been done and the body being misrepresented. While there is no antagonism toward Mr. Gompers for decisions which he has been forced to make by virtue of being the executive of the Federation, it proved that the objectionable part of the motion was the part instructing a delegate to vote for a certain man. The motion was reconsidered and taken from the table, and by a unanimous vote the body indorsed President Gompers.

While there are signs of the time in the vote, it is not representative of the body, whose faithful members stand firm for Mr. Gompers. At the time that the original motion was made the hall was crowded, and all were anxious to get to the election. Therefore, it is safe to say, the vote misrepresented the Central Labor Union, which believes that Samuel Gompers is the leader of trades unions of this country. After his election Mr. Gurley made a short speech, well representative of the union attitude towards Mr. Gompers. Mr. Gurley said that whatever the prevailing opinion might be, it was felt, he was an unwise move. The motion was reconsidered and taken from the table, and by a unanimous vote the body indorsed President Gompers.

NEW DELEGATES INSTALLED.
The other business transacted by the Central Labor Union last night was largely routine. A number of new delegates were installed, and the reports of the different committees were heard. Some time was spent in the discussion of the child labor law, which, it is claimed, is being violated in Indianapolis. The matter was brought up at a meeting some time ago, but nothing had been done by the grievance committee, to which the question was referred. Mr. Aberding, who made the original motion that an investigation be made and action be taken, demanded a reason why nothing had been done. The grievance committee reported that they had called on State Factory Inspector McCabe, but were unable to confer with him. After due discussion it was referred to the legislative committee, which will take the situation in hand. It is said that many children under the age of fourteen are employed in the factories of the city. The National malleable iron works and the canning factory on the Belt road were cited as instances.

The meeting was held in Pierson's Hall, on North Delaware street, and the delegates were much pleased with the new accommodations secured by the trustees.

FOUR WITH TWISTED IDEAS.

Deranged Men Under Arrest Have Some of the Queerest Delusions.

At the police station four deranged men were placed behind the bars pending their hearings before the insanity commission to-morrow.

Charles Robinson, 312 Church street, who imagines that a wild man is after him with murderous intent, and Thomas Horn, 951 Southeastern avenue, who dodges elephants and all kinds of large four-footed animals, are locked up in adjoining cells on the ground floor of the station house. Tim Crowley, an imaginary prize fighter, who holds the belt against all comers, is an inmate of one of the cells on the second floor and besides him is Hamilton Armfield, who believes himself to be a victim of a band of blood-thirsty assassins constantly on his trail. Some time ago he was arrested on an insane charge, and while in the police station broke one of the lenses out of his glasses and attempted to cut his throat. He succeeded in injuring himself so badly that it was necessary to remove him to the City Hospital, and while there he hanged himself to a radiator in his room with a rope made of torn sheets, but an attendant discovered him before he had choked to death. After considerable work on the part of the hospital doctors he was restored to consciousness. All the cases of insanity in the city are now in the present time are due to excessive drinking, it is said.

Chinese Woman Will Lecture.

An interesting lecture will be given soon before one of the literary clubs of the city. The lecturer will be Dr. Yamei Kin, a Chinese woman, who was in the city yesterday. On her return, the date of which is not yet fixed, she will be the guest of Mrs. May West Seavall. Mrs. Seavall and Dr. Kin two years ago in San Francisco, when both women were attending the meetings of the National Women's Medical Association. Dr. Kin was brought to this country by Dr. and Mrs. D. E. McCarty, missionaries to China. She studied in New York and graduated from the New York Medical College and has since practiced medicine in China. She is the guest of Mrs. George Comly, of Lebanon.

FIRST BAPTIST ANNUAL

CONGREGATIONAL MEETING DISCUSSES THE CHURCH DEBT.

At This Time It Amounts to About $5,000—Changes in the Officers of the Church.

The annual meeting of the First Baptist Church was held last night, the Rev. T. J. Villers, pastor of the church, presiding. The annual report of the officers was received, showing the church indebtedness to be about $5,000. One thousand dollars of this amount was added during the year by improvements to the auditorium. Over $6,000 has been subscribed, but not collected, toward paying off the general indebtedness and next Sunday morning a collection is to be taken to be applied on the extra $1,000.

In a discussion of the debt Dr. Woolen said he believed something should be done toward paying off the entire sum. Henry Eitd announced that three men stood ready to contribute $1,000 each. Mrs. Foster pointed out that if the members of the congregation would give one tenth of their income to the church all its expenses could be kept up. William Hollingsworth suggested that each of the 1,000 members of the church give a dollar each. No definite action was taken regarding the debt. The finances of the church do not consider the indebtedness appalling and they realize that whenever it is absolutely necessary to raise the money the amount can readily be secured.

The reports of the different church societies were flattering. The Ladies' Social Circle earned $1,800 during the year and applied $72 toward paying for the improvements to the auditorium. The report of the B. Y. P. U. showed this organization to be in a prosperous condition, it having paid off all of its indebtedness during the year. The Ladies' Missionary Society collected $464.
